

Fraud Notice: Any person who, with the intent to defraud or knowing that he is facilitating a fraud against an insurer, submits an application or files a claim containing a false or deceptive statement may be guilty of the crime of insurance fraud as determined by a court of competent jurisdiction. In FL, any person who knowingly and with intent to injure, defraud, or deceive any insurer files a statement of claim or an application containing any false, incomplete, or misleading information is guilty of a felony of the third degree. In NJ or VA, any person who includes any false or misleading information on any application for an insurance policy is subject to criminal and civil penalties. In LA, PA, or TN, any person who knowingly and with intent to defraud any insurance company or other person files an application for insurance or statement of claim containing any materially false information or conceals, for the purpose of misleading, information concerning any fact material thereto commits a fraudulent insurance act, which is a crime and subjects such person to criminal and civil penalties. In WA, a person who knowingly makes a false or misleading statement or impersonation, or who willfully fails to reveal a material fact in or relative to an application for insurance, to an insurer, is guilty of a gross misdemeanor.
